

HECO-TOPIX® has been proven to be one of the most advanced screws used in the UK for structural timber connections

Perfect for modern methods of timber construction such as SIPS panels, Glulam structures, timber frames, façade and roof insulation.

- ⊕ European Technical Approval ETA-11/0284
- ⊕ Assessed by TRADA technology to BS EN-14592/2008
- ⊕ Complies with NHBC building regulations and the forthcoming Eurocode 5 design codes
- ⊕ German national approval in accordance to DIN 1052-2008-12
- ⊕ Shear strengths comparable with a bolted joint
- ⊕ Patented combi thread of the TimberConnect screw anchor secures timber sole plates to concrete
- ⊕ High load bearing capacity with Topix Combi-Connect
- ⊕ Stainless steel available for use with oak and solar installations

